

Community Educator – South Canterbury area

The South Canterbury Division of Parkinson's New Zealand is looking for an innovative and motivated Parkinson's Community Educator. This is an opportunity for you to work with people with Parkinson's and their families in the South Canterbury area.

It is essential that you have good communication skills and enthusiasm for working with individuals and groups. You must be able to work independently; network and liaise with clients, carers and other health professionals; be able to work flexibly to meet the needs of the service, including working outside standard hours where required.

The South Canterbury Division of Parkinson's New Zealand provides a friendly working environment, coupled with professional development and support systems.

This role requires:

- A Registered Health Professional with current practising certificate preferably with three years post registration experience.
- Working 20 hours per week.
- A reliable car and full driver's license is essential.
